

Figure 1: Stereographic triangle with surface grain orientations as they are distributed in the Ni-11Cr-6Mo sample. STM images were taken at 500 x 500 nm after annealing in UHV. VESTA crystal structures corresponding to the Z direction of each grain are shown next to their corresponding STM images, with Miller indices noted in the figure.